Dear Friends,

March 2009

I am inviting you to think spring. That's when NCF student ministry participates in the National Student Nurses Association (NSNA) Convention, April 15-19, 2009 in Nashville, TN. At NSNA over 3,500 nursing students from across the U.S. gather to grow in their professional development through exposure to educational resources, leadership opportunities, and career guidance. It is our prayer that as enthusiastic students attend the convention this year, they will realize that God is offering them more than professional development – He is offering them whole-life development in Him!

NCF sponsors a break-out session taught by NCF staff, and hosts an exhibit in the convention hall. Students are often first exposed to NCF while at the NSNA convention as was Holly Stafford, University of New Mexico graduate. Holly shares her experience of “finding” NCF at the convention:

“Discovering NCF really made me excited to graduate and be a nurse. NCF taught me that nursing itself is a ministry. It made me remember that I'm a servant of all through nursing. NCF taught me how to do REAL spiritual care; we didn't have an actual spiritual care class at my nursing school... basically NCF taught me the spiritual care aspect of nursing.”

At last year's convention, NCF staff prayed with several students who were in need of encouragement, peace, and strength from our Heavenly Father. This year we pray that we would again have opportunity to care for students in this way, and also to introduce students who do not yet know Jesus to the God who created them, loves them, and desires for them to know and follow Him as Lord.

- ◆ Would you join us in praying daily for the NCF staff, students, and faculty at the convention April 15-19?
- ◆ Would you consider giving a special gift to make it possible for NCF to be a Christian presence at the NSNA convention? We need to raise $7,000 for the focus session, materials, exhibit space, and travel expenses for NCF staff.

Thank you for your willingness to be a part of furthering God's Kingdom through connecting nursing student leaders to God's ministry through Nurses Christian Fellowship this spring!

God's peace to you,

Renee
